Celebrating Imlek: Indonesia's Vibrant Chinese New Year

Chinese New Year celebration

Chinese New Year, known as “Imlek” in Indonesia, is a major cultural celebration observed by Chinese-Indonesian communities across the country. The festival, which marks the beginning of the Lunar calendar, is widely celebrated with traditional customs such as family gatherings, offering prayers at temples, and sharing festive meals.

Barongsai

Homes are often adorned with red lanterns and decorations, symbolising prosperity and good fortune. Fireworks, which are believed to ward off evil spirits, are set off at midnight, and lion dances, or “Barongsai”, are performed in public spaces to bring blessings of wealth and happiness.

Lo Hei or Yusheng

Besides the cultural performances, there is a special dish that is a must for Chinese New Year: Lo Hei, or Yusheng. Lo Hei is a Chinese salad traditionally enjoyed during Chinese New Year, symbolizing prosperity and good fortune. This colorful dish consists of a mixture of raw fish, sliced vegetables, and various condiments, with each ingredient having its own auspicious meaning—such as carrots for good luck and peanuts for wealth. The most exciting part of the celebration is the communal tossing of the salad, where participants raise chopsticks and shout wishes for the new year, creating a fun and festive atmosphere.

Professor Gabriel Szulanski Singapore

"I hope this message finds you well. I wanted to take a moment to express my heartfelt appreciation for the outstanding experience delivered by the Nirwana Gardens team during the weekend where we as colleagues came to reconnect. Every aspect of the event was impeccably organized, and the attention to detail from beginning to end was nothing short of exceptional.

From the very beginning, Hwee Hoon's leadership, coupled with the incredible efforts of your team, set the tone for what turned out to be an unforgettable event.

While the entire team was remarkable, it's important to recognize the leadership that made this possible. Hwee Hoon ensured that the team was focused on the details while fostering a positive and supportive environment. Her ability to keep everyone aligned and attentive to every task played a critical role in the success of this event.

I also want to acknowledge that so many people were involved in making this event special that I am certain I am missing someone who made a difference. However, I know they will recognize the impact they had in making this event a true success.

On behalf of all the attendees, I extend my sincerest thanks to you and your entire team. It was a pleasure to work with Nirwana Gardens again after so many years, and I look forward to future collaborations."

A Deeper Dive into Hawksbill and Green Sea Turtles

Do you know that almost every year during the middle of the month, there will be baby turtles released on our Nirwana Gardens beach. Sea turtles could survive with humans' help by sharing the responsibility from comprehensive support. So, this program is an action of CSR to save and protect sea turtles, as their numbers in the Indian Ocean are decreasing. Let's learn more about these sea turtles.

There are a lot of different kinds of Sea Turtles in the world, but we're going to talk about these two species which are common among others. Hawksbill Sea Turtle (Eretmochelys imbricata) which is the one that is having sharp and unique beak and it's perfect for them to feed on sponges and it keeps the coral reefs healthy by avoiding overgrowth that could endanger the fragile environment. The Green Sea Turtle (Chelonia mydas) has a pointed beak and rounded snout which makes it easier for them to graze on seagrass. Because of pollution, habitat degradation, and illegal trade, these two species of Sea Turtles are being protected.

Of course, there are a lot of ways for us to help protect the Sea Turtles such as habitat protection, Anti-poaching measures, and community engagement. Starting from the basics, stop littering on the sea is to protect their habitat from plastic and hazardous waste to avoid being tangled and eating the plastic by mistake, to help them from decreasing. While enhancing the safety of sea turtles nests on beaches is to increase the population of sea turtles. The increase of sea turtles could help us to maintain ocean health.

Together we contribute to ensuring these unique marine reptiles continue to exist for upcoming generations.
